Also Ask Protection From Allies Against the Reign of Bolshevism Now Threatening.

PLAN TO THROW OFF YOKE Representative Discloses Some of the Practices Indulged In to Obtain Absolute Control of the Nation's Government.

(By Associated Press.)
BERLIN, Friday, November 29.—The Ukrainians are longing for intervention by the allies to eject the Germans and protect the country against the Bolsheviks, according to a statement made by the Ukrainian delegation in the Associated Press conference here today.
"When we threw off the Russian yoke," said the delegation's spokesman, "our alternatives were to join the Bolsheviki or to remain neutral. We chose the latter course, but we would never have done so if we had known what would be the result."
The Ukrainian representative told how the Germans organized the Ukrainian Parliament, installed their tool (General Skoropadski) as headman and protected the interests of the owners of the great estates. When the German revolution came the Ukrainians demanded to secure their independence.
They were prevented from doing so by the German army, he declared. The German soldiers counseled in the Ukraine have restored relations with their old masters, the representatives, and the old orders from the revolutionary government at Berlin being disregarded.
The correspondent's informant declared that the present Ukrainian government is the work of the peasants and the country's educated classes.
The revolution, he said, was not instigated, and directed solely to securing the independence of the Ukraine. Their idea is that the entire world police the Ukraine and make the summing of a constituent assembly possible.

PETERSBURG WILL HAVE HYDRO-ELECTRIC PLANT

Dam Will Be Constructed Across Appomattox River to Supply Water Power.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PETERSBURG, Va., November 30.— With the announcement of the appointment of John E. Harrell, of this city, superintendent of the Petersburg division of the Virginia Railway and Power Company, as general superintendent of the light and power department of the company, including the Petersburg, Richmond and Norfolk divisions, comes the report that the company will build a great dam at the falls of the Apomattox river for the purpose of developing the great water power here, and supplying electric light and power to the cities of Petersburg and Richmond. It is estimated that the cost of the work will approximate $2,000,000, and it is intended to secure Federal government aid in the construction of the dam. The scheme to build this dam has been under consideration for years. Richmond is already being supplied with electricity from Petersburg, and a high power transmission line is being erected to Norfolk to supply that city and Suffolk with electricity for all purposes. Some fifteen miles of this line has already been completed.

Elks' Memorial Services.
Petersburg Lodge of Elks will hold its annual exercises in memory of departed members Sunday afternoon in the Elks' Home. Eight members of the lodge died during the past year, but all the departed brothers of preceding years will be remembered. The exercises will be simple but none the less impressive, and the speaking will be by members of the lodge. Brother Elks at camp Lee will join in the exercises.

Confesses Murder.
According to the police, William Jones, under arrest for killing his wife, has confessed to the murder, which occurred early Friday morning at the home of the couple in Ransom Street.
Jones's daughter says he first knocked his wife down and beat her, and then shot her. Afterward he placed the body on the bed, covered it with a spread, stopped the clock and left the house. He was arrested downtown while running in the street and crying that he had killed his wife. He was at first thought to be crazy.

Lost Three Fingers.
W. D. Beasley, a butcher, while operating a sausage machine at the L.
King's meat market at West and Washington Streets, yesterday afternoon had his left hand caught in the machine and before he could extricate it, he had lost three fingers. The hand cut off. He was taken to the hospital.

Personal and General.
Some dealers in Petersburg, it is stated, have been charging more profits than allowed on various articles of food, and have been indicted. The case will be investigated and the regulation enforced by proper penalties.
Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Ball announce that the invitations issued for the marriage of their daughter, Edith Gertrude, to Frank W. Quicke, of Petersburg, are recalled and the ceremony will take place quietly, with only the immediate family present.
Charles T. Lessor, president of the Chamber of Commerce, who went overseas some months ago to engage in Y. M. C. A. work, returned to the city last night and has resumed his law practice.

A Will— A Man's Duty

To be overtaken by the inevitable event without having made your will is the equivalent of dividing your property among heirs as their legal interests appear, without regard to their capacity to care for it or your own desires as to its dis-

A will, with the best interests of heirs carefully planned and this institution named to carry out its terms as executor will be a wise discharge of your duty toward those nearest you.

Virginia's Sons Die For Human Rights

Several Others Wounded
While Fighting Democracy's Battles.

Lieutenant Newton E. Ancarrow, former Richmond College football team captain, son of Newton E. Ancarrow, of 2002 West Grace Street, was killed in action in France on November 2, according to information received yesterday in a letter of condolence to his mother from Lieutenant Irving Williams, a son of H. O. Williams, also of this city. The letter was the first intimation of the death of the son that he had yet reached. The parents of the young lieutenant, Mr. Ancarrow has inquired of the War Department for confirmation.
It was stated by Lieutenant Williams that Lieutenant Ancarrow was wounded in the hip and died at once.
He also said that he himself was gassed and his removal from the field prevented his knowing of the burial of his friend, although he presumed burial took place on the field. Lieutenant An-carrow graduated with honors from Richmond College several years ago.
He was captain of the football team, the baseball team and a participant in most forms of athletics. After graduation he was a college instructor and athletic director. He and Lieutenant Williams entered the first officers' training school at Fort Meyer, where he was commissioned first lieutenant. He was with his company at Camp Lee with the Third Hundred and Seventeenth Infantry Regiment. At the time of his death he was acting captain of his company, and may have been so commissioned. He fell at the head of his battalion.

IRWIN MANKIN KILLED:

EULOGIZED BY CAPTAIN Private Irvin T. Mankin, according to information received yesterday by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Mankin, of 616 West Cary Street, was killed in action in France on October 15.
He was a member of the Machine Gun Company, One Hundred and Sixteenth Infantry, Twenty-ninth Division. In a letter from his company commander, Captain Joseph P. Ast, who eulogized the young man that gave his life for humanity, it was stated that the deceased was instantly killed by a bullet while serving on the front line. He was formerly a member of the Rich-on the Mexican border. He re-enlisted after the beginning of the war with Germany. He is survived by his parents and the following brothers and sisters: Rachel, Marguerite, Audrey, Harold and Harmon Mankin.

Clair Dalton, son of H. S. Dalton, of 1827 Park Avenue, this city, was wounded in France on November 4, according to a letter received by his parents. Sergeant Whitmore, of this city, wrote to his brother here an account of Clair Dalton being cited for the Distinguished Service Cross for sticking to his ambulance after being caught in a heavy shell fire. But evidently Whitmore did not know that the young man with a fragment of shell buried deep in his leg stayed with his car and drove it a distance of five miles in spite of the commotion. The car was filled with wounded soldiers when Dalton and his orderly, George P. Jones, also of Richmond, were caught in a road jam and subjected to the shelling.
Horses and wagons and men were blown over the road in scraps, and the ambulance looked like a sieve, wrote Sergeant Whitmore, but the boys stayed with it, although truck drivers along the road abandoned their cars.
Young Dalton wrote his father that the fragment was cut from the bone of

RIVAL TO PANAMA CANAL

Mexico Hopes to Induce South America to Patronize Tehuantepec Route.

MEXICO CITY, November 29.—A project providing for closer commercial union with the Latin-American countries, involving competition with the Panama Canal, was presented to the Mexican government today by Jose A.
De la Valle, commercial envoy from Peru to Mexico.
The project provides for the formation of steamship companies by all the Latin-American governments operating lines on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts with bases at both ends of the Tehuantepec railway.
This railway crosses the Isthmus of Tehuantepec.
It is asserted that by this method, freight charges between the various countries can be fixed lower than is now possible by way of the Panama Canal.
The Mexican government will present the plan to other Latin-American governments.
